

clean water for our children

Due to sophisticated environmental technologies and the great care that people take when dealing with the environment, drinking water bubbles from taps and fountains in Switzerland. Clean rivers and lakes invite people to jump in for a swim. The provincial capital Kunming benefited from this wealth of knowledge when twinning with the Swiss town Zurich. Zurich contributed to the creation of a master plan to provide drinking water to Kunming, to dispose of sewage and to provide training of technical staff. Measures were put into place to protect Kunming's lakes, rivers and canals, to purify polluted water and to bring drinking water from far away to Kunming to supply its ever growing population.
